

MAYOLE GONZALEZ Biography

Mayelín ("Mayole") González is a Cuban artist, born and raised in Holguín, Cuba and with current residence in Connecticut, USA.

While living in Cuba, Mayole began to be interested in art painting at the age of 5 and it was later that she studied the profession of furniture and interior design and this career naturally led her to develop an interesting identity search as an artist in recent years.

She says 'love' inspires her to paint, she loves to feel the passion of creating art, let her imagination flow and get reflected her feelings in the canvas as an artwork.

Mayole González has been characterized by an aesthetic based on an intense harmony of colors and its intrinsic beauty. Her works reflect a colorful metaphor of happiness, innocence, emotion and continuous references to his native Cuba. The artist preferably uses mixed media and acrylic paint techniques.

Mayole has participated in several exhibitions with different motives such as International Women's Day, May 5th, Hispanic Heritage Day, digital exhibitions, bookstores, cancer fundraising events, workshops with children and seniors. She has shown her work in different galleries in Cuba, USA and Mexico. www.mayolemili.net
